ABOUT THE PROGRAMME

This Hands-on Training Programme aims to equip participants with theoretical knowledge and practical skills in documenting tribal languages using contemporary linguistic methods. The programme will provide intensive training in fieldwork planning, ethical considerations, language data collection, audio-video recording techniques, transcription, annotation, and linguistic analysis. Participants will gain practical exposure to field-based documentation techniques and analytical methods, enabling them to undertake high-quality language documentation and contribute to the preservation and promotion of India's tribal linguistic heritage.
